SPRING, '95.

STYLE 675.

How Do You Like It?

The above cut represents one of our very popular numbers in Ladies' Wash Waists. We simply use the cut of this one number to call attention to the many good numbers represented in our stock. As a whole, our stock of waists is entirely different from any other goods being sold in the city; in fact the style and general makeup of these garments is superior to anything in the market today. That is saying a good deal, nevertheless it is true. In addition to many other good points, we would call attention to the Sleeve and Yoke in our waists as being superior and entirely different from anything to be had elsewhere. Prices range from 50c to $2.50. Call and see the finest line of waists in the city at

CITY CLERK'S REPORT

It Appears in the News Review and Crisis.

JEREMIAH TODDLES VS. CHARITY

The Law Does Not Permit Legal Printing to be Distributed By Way of Handbills. Member Owen's Funny Idea of Economy. The Report Will Cost Ninety Cents Per Square—Toodles and the Chestnuts.

Legal newspaper printing was given last year, by united vote of finance committee and council, to the NEWS REVIEW.

To charitably assist poor Jeremiah Toodles, the REVIEW was robbed of its best take, the clerk's report was put out in book form, and Jeremiah got it, of course, with out the formality of a bid, despite the fact that the minutes of May 8, 1894, specially declare that the job or book shall be given to the lowest bidder. Council did not dare publish it in newspaper form or the REVIEW would have got it, as per contract entered into.

Councilman Owen, in a meeting of council a few nights since, stated that the book form was a failure, and that the taxpayers should have the clerk's report portrayed before them in the newspapers. He stated further, at last meeting of council, that his idea of publishing in the newspapers was also engendered by the idea of economy. Jeremiah Toodles did the book work, so said member Owen, for less than $50. There was evidently not enough in it to suit Toodles' friends, and the present plot was hatched out, and Toodles gets $144.00 of a pickup, money to which he has no more legal or moral right than if he had baited our taxpayers at the mouth of a revolver and said "your money or your life?" How about your economical idea, Member Owen?

Member Owen states that council asked for no bids. Why then did council consider them? Why did council receive bids from the NEWS REVIEW and from the Crisis and have the same heralded to the public at large, thus permitting Toodles to step in with a lower bid, and of course, on Owen's cheap (?) idea, secure the contract? Why did council reject the bid made in open council by the REVIEW and the Crisis at 124 cents per square each, or 25 cents per square combined, thus saving the city a snug sum of money, and publishing the report in live, daily journals, of strong circulation, in place of a weakly sheet, moss-covered and representative of fossilized ideas and thoughts?

Say, taxpayers and citizens at large of this community, are you not believers in fair play? Was it fair to have Jeremiah Toodles have the knowledge of the figures offered by the daily papers of your city, and then permit Toodles and his weakly sheet to step in and bid a few cents lower, and then peddle his paper, of no legitimate circulation, about the city?

On the same principle, 3000 handbills, embracing the clerk's report in full, could have been struck off in this city and placed in every house in East Liverpool for the sum of $30. But the law forbids this, and says that legal printing shall appear in a paper of general circulation. Jeremiah Toodles' weakly sheet is not a paper of general circulation in this city, and peddling it about our streets and thoroughfares cannot make it so, and every member of council knows this to be an indisputable fact.

By way of illustration, good citizens and taxpayers of East Liverpool, note how one of the brightest merchants and business men of this city, a man who is a firm believer in legitimate advertising, holds Jeremiah Toodles' weakly sheet.

"Jerry Simms was in here a few minutes since, boring me about an advertisement for his paper. I finally gave him one out of pure charity, as it won't do me a cents worth of good; but it shall be the last I give him, as I won't throw my money away in such a foolish manner."

And yet council saw fit to publish their clerk's report, a matter of much moment to taxpayers, in Toodles' miserable misfit sheet.

Taxpayers, this same Toodles has been kept at the expense of the public for 10 these many years, backed by the influence of keen-witted men who are his masters, and who can use him as a pliant tool, compelling him to permit his sheet to be used for their own selfish purposes. It has been suggested that he is only a figure head, and not the owner of the plant where he is engaged, but merely employed as a monkey to pull chestnuts out of the fire by his owners. Be this as it may, the present action of council will open the eyes of the people, and Toodles and his friends, or masters, will find the same difficulty staring them in the face, in future attempts at robbery, as they did when they published county printing in their so-called Dutch edition, nominally under control of Josey Misfit Betz.

SMALL HAULS.

The Police Net Was Not Filled Yesterday.

A man giving the name of Lem Lamboun was arrested in the Diamond Saturday evening by Officer Jennings. He was provided with a bottle of whiskey, and was enjoying himself to the annoyance of pedestrians. After spending the night in the cooler he told Mayor Gilbert that he was guilty and paid the assessment of $6.00 without a murmur.

William Macbee was the owner of Second street yesterday when Officer Welch found that he would be much better behind the bars. He, too, was provided with a bottle, but he had no objection when it was taken from him. He paid $8.95 for his spree.

Hague & Webber's saloon was raided by Officers Wyman and Supplee on Saturday night. The charge against the place was card playing, and the men were ordered to appear before the mayor.

George Heckathorn, who has been in jail because of an incident at the glass works, was released this morning, and the jail starts another week without an occupant. He had $15 against his name, and a young woman in whom Heckathorn is interested paid the bill.

THE DECISION.

The Supreme Court on the Income Tax Law. Special to News Review.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The decision of the supreme court on the income tax law was made public this morning, but is not a great surprise.

The law is declared to be unconstitutional so far as it relates to incomes from rents, state, county and municipal bonds. The court can find no difference between the tax on land itself and a tax on rents or an income derived from lands. The court thus finds that the tax on rents or landed investment is a direct tax, and as such is unconstitutional. The above facts do not make the entire law unconstitutional, but the court is exactly divided on this one point. The decision is a lengthy document.

Another Examination.

Captain W. C. Supplee received notice this morning from Col. Hard, of Wooster that a recommendation had been sent Col. Gyger, of the Eighth, for his commission as captain of Company E. The letter states that Captain Supplee's examination was excellent. On the other hand Lieutenant Terrence was found wanting when weighed in the military balance. The percentage of his answers to the usual questions was too low, and Colonel Hard writes that he will have to undergo another examination if he desires the position of first lieutenant.

Found a Dead Man.

A floater was found at Georgetown yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and taken from the water in a horrible condition. An inquest was held last night, and as there was nothing on him to give his name or residence or throw any light upon the cause of his death it was decided that the man had been drowned. Word was sent to other towns along the river in the hope of finding the man's name. In the absence of the information the body was buried at Georgetown.

Ran Over a Child.

When George Adams was driving through the Diamond this morning a wheel of the light road cart in which he sat struck a little girl and knocked her down. Before the horse could be stopped the wheel had passed over the child's back. Persons standing near aided her to arise, and it was found that she was not hurt. She was not frightened, and went laughingly away.

Took the Trousers.

Chief Mason, Akron, has notified the authorities here to keep an eye open for a man attempting to sell trousers. A clothing store was robbed in Akron on Saturday night, and 17 pairs of trousers were taken. They were blue, black and pepper and salt, and were made for men.

A Membership Musical.

The new members of the Young Men's Christian association will be entertained at the rooms of the organization next Thursday evening. Professor Gottschall's class will render a musical program of merit, and all the members and their friends are invited to be present.

WELCH HAD A BOTTLE

Several Hundred People Laugh at an Officer.

IT FELL FROM HIS POCKET

While He Was on a Ladder at a Second Street Fire Yesterday Afternoon—A Policeman Who Came Down "the New Way"—Another Bottle in Wellsville.

Perhaps the funniest thing that has occurred in East Liverpool for years happened yesterday afternoon on Second street when the fire department was looking after a troublesome chimney on the Allison house.

Elisha Welch, a special officer who has been on duty mostly at the opera house, was the first to arrive on the scene after the alarm had been sent in. He mounted a ladder and was near the roof until those farther up decided that nothing more could be done. Welch turned his head to see if the way was clear, and shouted to one of the firemen below "look out," as he was coming down "the new way." The new way of coming down a ladder as interpreted by the fire ladders is simply to grasp the sides of the ladder and wrapping the legs around the ladder, slide to the ground without using the rungs. As Welch bent over to get in position for the slide there was a click against the ladder and as he started down a brown quart bottle fell from one of his pockets and was shattered on the pavement. It contained beer, and the stuff was scattered all around while a crowd of several hundred people, who saw the affair, screamed with laughter until their sides ached. The uproar caused more amusement than any hit made at the theater; at which the officer has presided this season. People blocks away heard the laughter, and while some thought the screams were of terror because of an accident, others realized that it was unadulterated mirth and were puzzled until they inquired. Then they enjoyed a hearty laugh. Officer Welch's face was a brilliant crimson when he walked away, and as he has heretofore been quite a proud individual, it was a terrible blow to his pride. He surveyed the crowd awhile with an apparent desire to murder everybody that laughed, but concluded that it was too large a job to undertake and walked away amid remarks of "How did he get beer on Sunday," "Bet he didn't have to pay for it," "Suppose that was a new kind of hand extinguisher to be used on burning throats only," etc.

Another of the officers who was on the roof created considerable amusement, as was no doubt his intention, by feeling all his pockets carefully before he started down the ladder.

Officer Welch claims that he bought the beer for his little child, who has been ill for some time, and was on his way home when the alarm was sounded.

Chief Adam wants it understood that Welch is not nor never has been a member of the fire department, and consequently no reflection can be cast on the firemen. He was more of an obstruction than a help as other firemen wanted to get by him and found it impossible.

It is understood that Welch has had his application in for some time for a position on the regular force and expected the new council to act on it, but yesterday's mishap cannot but be fatal to his chances. Aside from this there have been rumors upon rumors of actions not becoming an officer, and as late as yesterday morning a story concerning the original whereabouts of the beer and the parties who consumed a portion of it, was afloat. Certain happenings on street cars in the presence of other officials have also been noised about, but have not reached the official ears in a manner convincing enough to cause Welch trouble. He has not been a favorite by any means at city hall, and it can be said that no sympathy is wasted on him.

Considerable merriment was created in the Arlington rink, Wellsville, Saturday, in a manner similar to that of yesterday. A crowd of boys and girls were standing on a bench to see the race when someone pushed it over, and there was a big fall. An empty beer bottle rolled out, and after describing a circle on the floor rolled back toward the girls. Whether one of the girls or boys owned that bottle is still a mystery. Nobody claimed it.

TWO FIRES

Make Excitement, but Do Little Damage.

The fire department were called to the building once occupied by the colored people as a church on Saturday evening, but came back without any work. It was a chimney blaze.

A few minutes after five o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm took the department to the house of Nancy Allison on Second street. A ladder was run up, and a few firemen soon had the blaze extinguished. The loss was trifling.

Captured an Owl.

When James Delaney was going home at an early hour yesterday morning he saw what seemed to be a monster owl in the lower branches of a tree on Second street. A second glance convinced him that his supposition was correct, and he secured a club. One blow brought the monster from the tree, and another ended his life. The owl was exhibited on Second street this morning, and caused wonder that it should find its way from the woods to the city.

Called It a Fake.

The crowd who saw McShane defeat Woolmaker at the Wellsville rink on Saturday evening declared the race a fake of the first water, and one man who had money on the contest attempted to stop the defeated man when at one time it looked as though he would win. After the race Lawrence Allison and another man became involved in an argument, and Allison was struck in the face. The contestants were separated, and there were no arrests.

Kept Them Moving.

The police kept the loafers moving on Saturday amid a great deal of grumbling and angry looks. Men who have always leaned against their favorite railing or stood upon their particular corner objected to being ordered to move on, but the officers had their orders, and the crowds were not permitted to loiter. Others took it as a matter of justice, and made no complaint when they found that all were being treated alike.

Among the Ailing.

Mrs. George Campbell, of West End, is confined to her home by a severe attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Williams, wife of Doctor Williams is ill with typhoid fever.

Thomas Pittenger, of East End, who has been ill with lung trouble, is slightly improved.

Carl Schnepf, whose dangerous illness with typhoid fever was mentioned Saturday, is worse today and still sinking.

The New Clock Ordered.

Out of three or four bidders Saturday for the new clock to be placed on the central school building the offer of the Seth Thomas Clock company, New York and Chicago, was found to be the lowest and they got the contract through their agent, Walter J. Buckley. The dial of the new clock will be seven feet in diameter with faces of sectional glass, and will be of the finest make.

Getting Lower.

The river is falling today, but general rains throughout the east are expected to change it to a rise before tomorrow. The Sunday packets were on time, and each had a good trip. Many passengers are being carried every day, the traffic being much better than usual at this season.

Mrs. Huntsman Dead.

Mrs. Thomas Huntsman, a Smith's Ferry lady who was well known in this city, died at her home there on Saturday after a long illness. Funeral services were held at her late home yesterday, and the body was taken by boat to Mahan's where it will be interred.

To Be Tried Tomorrow.

The case of Clay Gould against the East Liverpool Pottery company will be heard tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock by Squire Travis at city hall. The jury will be F. S. Albright, J. N. Hanley, Thomas Heath, H. L. Simms, J. A. Myers and W. B. Tarr.

Started the Mill.

Special to the News Review.

Lisbon, April 8.—The new tin mill began work this morning, and is expected to be constantly in operation. At present there are 50 men employed, but more will be added as soon as they are needed.

Gone to Cincinnati.

Captain and Mrs. Galley, who have been here for a week visiting the Salvation Army, went to Cincinnati this morning, accompanied by Miss Marcroft. From Cincinnati they go to Columbus, where they will be stationed.

Decided the Ownership.

The case of Smith Bros. against J. W. Nott, involving the ownership of a horse, was settled by Squire Rose this morning, when he gave a verdict to the plaintiff.

MET WITH FOUL PLAY

So Thinks Coroner Sloan of Ashland, Regarding

THE BOYS WHO WERE KILLED

Contractor J. C. Lutton Receives a Message From the Coroner to that Effect—Merchant Had $82 and His Companion a Gold Watch—The Bodies Buried Here This Afternoon.

There is a suspicion in the city today that Will Merchant and James Lutton, the young men killed at Ashland, met death by the hands of a murderer.

The first story from Ashland was to the effect that the boys had been killed in a freight wreck, and would be sent home yesterday morning. When the bodies did not arrive J. C. Lutton, a half brother of one of the victims, became anxious, and his feelings received no great change when word came from the coroner that an error had been made in the first information, and it was possible that the young men had been murdered. The bodies were found not far from the station, and so far from the wreck as to create this suspicion in the mind of the coroner. He promised to investigate the case, and let them have information as soon as possible.

The death of Merchant is attended by circumstances which made it sad. He was engaged to be married, and expected to find work on his trip. Arrangements were made for the funeral to take place this morning from the Calhoun residence on Seventh street, the services being conducted by Rev. D. A. Herrick, and interment to be in Spring Grove cemetery, but the remains did not arrive in time to have the arrangement carried out.

The bodies arrived today at noon, and were taken to West's undertaking rooms. They were in coffins, but it could be seen that Merchant was mangled. Lutton had a wound on the side of his head, but was otherwise comparatively free from disfigurement. Scores of people viewed the bodies among them being a liberal sprinkling of women. When the doors were thrown open the crowd surged in as though it was a sight they could not afford to lose. It is now believed that Merchant had $82 in his possession when he left the city, although it was stated on Saturday that he only had $1.80.

Lutton had a gold watch in his pocket, and it is not yet known what became of it. The end of the boys makes seven young men who have been killed while away from their homes in this city within a year. A letter was found on Merchant's clothes addressed to the young lady in this city to whom he was engaged but its contents were not learned. The funeral of Merchant took place from the Calhoun residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The Merchant boys have been living at Calhoun's since their mother's death some years ago. The funeral to-day was largely attended and the remains buried in Spring Grove cemetery.

Funeral services were held at the Lutton residence at 4 o'clock, but the body was not taken from the rough box, the hearse waiting outside the house and afterwards conveying the remains to Riverview cemetery.

Palm Sunday. Palm Sunday was observed at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning in special services. Doctor Lee delivered a powerful sermon, and Mrs. J. C. Thompson sang beautifully an appropriate solo. The auditorium was decorated with palms sent from Florida by George Morton, a member of the congregation. The services in the evening were marked by special music, and a sermon on the Bible in law.

Reverend Taggart conducted communion services at the Second United Presbyterian church yesterday. Reverend Green, the new pastor, will take charge next Sunday.

Struck by a Sagger.

When Frank Byron, a kilnman, was at work in a kiln at the Wheeling pottery on Saturday, he was struck on the head by a sagger and the scalp was almost torn off.

United For Life.

Otto T. Desher and Miss Carry O'Hanlon were married on Saturday evening at the residence of mutual friend on Second street. Squire Rose tied the knot.

Lost an Arm.

George Sheets, a Wellsville young man who is well known in this city, lost an arm at Bedford while making a coupling Friday night.

—J. J. Murphy, of Pittsburg, spent Sunday with friends in this city.

NOT A DRUNKARD AS STATED.

He Declares the Statement Is Cruel, False and Most Unjust—Such a Preacher's Desire For Notoriety Greater Than His Piety—A Spirited Interview.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—When the report of a speech made in a Methodist conference at Salem, Mass., by Rev. Lansing, and his subsequent published interview, accusing the president of intemperance, was shown to Mr. Cleveland, he said with considerable warmth:

"This is simply an outrage, though it is not the first time a thing of this kind has been attempted. I cannot avoid a feeling of indignation that any man who makes claims to decency, and especially one who assumes the role of a Christian minister, should permit himself to become a disseminator of wholesale lies and calumnies no less stupid than they are cruel and wicked. I easily recall other occasions when those more or less entitled to be called ministers of the gospel have been instrumental in putting into circulation the most scandalous falsehoods concerning my conduct and character. The elements or factors of the most approved outfit for placing a false and barefaced accusation before the public appear to be, first, some one with baseness and motive sufficient to invent it; second, a minister with more gullibility and love of notoriety than piety greedily willing to listen to it and glibly repeat it; and third, a newspaper anxiously willing to publish it. For the sake of the Christian religion I am thankful that these scandal-mongering ministers are few, and on every account I am glad that the American people love fair play and justice, and that in spite of all effort to mislead them they are apt to form a correct estimate of the character and labors of their public servants."

A Dagger Given to Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, April 8.—Hon. John A. Caldwell, mayor of this city, has received from the son of the late General Sam Houston the dagger which was taken from General Santa Anna when he was captured by General Houston at the battle of San Jacinto on April 21, 1836. This gift is to be presented to some museum in Cincinnati. It is sent in recognition of the fact that the two cannons of the Texan army, called "The Two Sisters," which were chiefly instrumental in winning the battle of San Jacinto, were the gift of the citizens of Cincinnati.

A Duel on the Street.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., April 8.—Morton Marshall, proprietor of the Springview hotel, and Dick James have had a duel with revolvers on Main street. Four shots were exchanged. Although not more than 20 feet apart neither was struck. There were many people on the street, and the wonder is that some innocent person was not killed. The trouble occurred over Marshall's daughter.

Natives Repulsed by the British.

SIMLA, April 8.—The first brigade of the British force moving to the relief of Mr. Robertson, the British agent at Central, has had an engagement with 5,000 Swatis, who were trying to block the Malakand pass. The enemy were put to flight after losing 30 killed by a charge of cavalry. The brigade is now at Khar, in Swat, where it is awaiting the organization of a transport service.

Praised by Emperor William.

HAMBURG, April 8.—Emperor William has sent the following telegram to Captain Earends, of the Hamburg-American line steamer Normannia, which on her last trip to this port rescued the crew of the British ship Arno: "I express to you my fullest appreciation of the rescue of the crew of the Arno, so happily accomplished by persevering courage under arduous circumstances."

Governor Marvill's Condition.

LAUREL, Del., April 8.—Drs. H. H. Luce and W. E. Wolf, the physicians attending Governor Marvill, have issued this bulletin: "Governor Marvill's condition remains much the same. The erysipelas has spread somewhat upon the chest, but there is no more febrile action. He is very weak, but has taken nourishment quite freely."

Gang of Robbers Caught.

DENVER, April 8.—William Connors, leader of the gang of bandits which terrorized and robbed a gamblinghouse of $675, has been captured in this city. He has confessed and returned about two-thirds of the booty. The other two members of the gang were captured at Aspen Junction.

Nearly Starved In a Boxcar.

Conditions of the Competitive Examination at Alliance.

Hon. R. W. Tavier has issued the following announcement that will interest all ambitious young men in this vicinity:

"A competitive examination of candidates from the Eighteenth congressional district for appointment as cadet to the United States Military academy will be held at high school building, Alliance, on Thursday, the 13th day of June, 1895, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. The successful candidate, if he shall thereafter pass the examination requirement by the war department, will be admitted to the academy on the 15th day of June, 1896, at which time he must be not more than 22 nor less than 17 years of age. Each candidate must be an actual resident of the Eighteenth district; he must be unmarried, at least five feet in height, free from any infectious or immoral disorder, and generally from any deformity, disease or infirmity which may render him unfit for military service. He must be well versed in reading, in writing, including orthography, in arithmetic, and have a knowledge of the elements of English grammar, of descriptive geography (particularly of our own country), and of the history of the United States. An alternate will also be appointed, and both he and the candidate recommended for appointment must attend the official examination on March 3, 1896, of which due notice will be given them by the proper authorities. The two candidates recommended by the board of examiners will be appointed cadet and alternate, respectively, subject to the official examination thereafter to be held."

A Troublesome Engine.

On Saturday last the engine in the press room of the NEWS REVIEW struck against working overtime, and caused no end of annoyance during the day. A casting was brought from Pittsburg on the first train, and every effort made to have the machine in working order in time to deliver the evening edition before 6 o'clock. The plan failed, however, and the offer of the Crisis press room was thankfully accepted. The Crisis has the hearty thanks of the NEWS REVIEW.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Tourist club, East End, have moved into the Taggart building.

Henry Stone, of this city, has been notified that his pension has been increased.

Constant dropping wears away the stone, and constant advertising brings the business.

The trolley wire broke near Thompson's pottery on Saturday, but was repaired in a short time.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rinehart was buried in Riverview cemetery Saturday afternoon.

The streets were thronged with people on Saturday evening, and business men were satisfied with results.

A battle between two young men occurred in a Sixth street restaurant last night. There were no arrests.

A force began work today renovating the Second United Presbyterian church in the East End. It will be papered and repaired.

Miss Anna Johnson, of East End, entertained a party of friends last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Pearl White, who has been her guest.

Homer Risinger, John Porter and John McKinney rode to Rochester on their wheels yesterday. They experienced no little difficulty from the mud on the return trip.

Frank Simmers figured prominently in a bicycle race on Third street Saturday evening. He was almost a winner when the wheel became unmanageable, and collided with a fence. The front wheel was broken and the machine otherwise injured, but the rider escaped with a few bruises.

The Young Men's Christian association boys will discuss a proposition to lease the West End grounds this evening. They have been offered the park on liberal terms, and may decide to accept. If the park is leased it will be surrounded by a fence, and base ball made a specialty during the season.

A disgraceful row occurred on the Horn switch near the Dresden pottery on Saturday night, but the principals escaped arrest, and got home without further damage than blackened eyes. There was a woman at the bottom of the trouble, and three men were so enchanted by her charms that they fought for their claims. The woman is said to be married, and her husband knew of the row.

The Women's Christian Temperance union found a sad case of destitution in the East End last Saturday, and turned it over to the township trustees who took measures to have the parties given relief. One daughter of the family died not long ago after a struggle with typhoid fever, and another is suffering from the same disease. They are worthy people, and the trustees will do all they can to help them.

Superintendent Andrews has little hope of seeing summer cars on the electric line this year, but what he does want is a combination car. It is being largely used in Cleveland, and is a model of beauty and convenience, rolling over the rails with ease, and presenting a splendid appearance. If the officials of the company would send a few of these cars to East Liverpool the traveling public would gladly relinquish the cars now in use.

If the Pennsylvania company has an eye to business the officials will order a two day excursion rate from this city to Pittsburg, or will discontinue the service from Rochester to that place. The practice of buying round trip tickets from East Liverpool to Rochester has increased to such proportions within the last few weeks that the agent at Rochester is ready with the little slips every time an East Liverpool train arrives.

Governor McKinley has issued a proclamation making April 26 Arbor day. In connection with the announcement he asks that school authorities arrange for special exercises on that date, and permit the children to take part in or witness the planting of trees, for "in this way not only will a love of nature be inculcated, but there will be given an opportunity for the presentation of the example of the lives of noble men and women."

Chief Charley Gill was in the city yesterday for a few hours looking after his political fences. In the evening he left for Lisbon where he will spend a few days. It is generally conceded in this part of the county that he will have the big end of the vote, and there will be no great change in the situation from now until the primaries. There were a number of candidates in town today, and many will be calling on their friends before the week is over.

A peculiar incident is being discussed in Grant district in connection with the death of a woman who passed away recently. Her little daughter was as the apple of her eye, there being a bond between them which made them confidants and friends. The morning of the day on which the young mother died the little daughter was found weeping bitterly, and when questioned regarding the cause declared that she had seen her mother die during the night. In a few hours the dream had become a reality.

OFFICE OF THE CITY CLERK.

EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, March 20th, 1895.

J. JAMES N. HANLEY, Clerk of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, hereby certify that the foregoing statement of the receipts and expenditures and the bonded indebtedness of said city for the year ending March 18th, 1895, is true and correct.

EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, April 24, 1895.

WE, the committee appointed by Council to audit the books of the Clerk and Treasurer, have performed that duty, and found them correct.

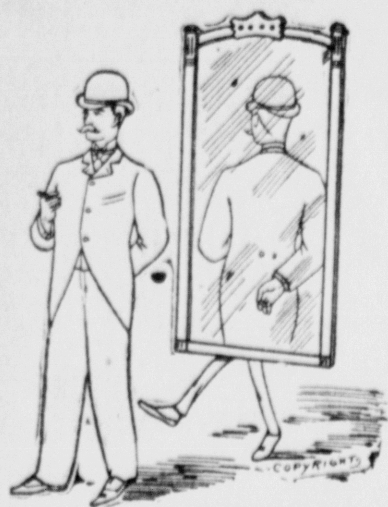

WM. SWINDELLS, JOHN HORNWELL, Committee.

An Oil Can Exploded on Fifth Street.

TWO MEN WERE BURNED

J. L. Bernard and Frank Beatty Have An Experience—The Fire Did Not Cause Much Damage But Made a Great Fuss While It Lasted.

The explosion of an oil can on Fifth street painfully burned to painters this morning.

J. L. Bernard and Frank Beatty were cleaning the paint from a porch attached to the residence of William Brunt when the small lamp in the hands of Beatty began to leak. The gasoline caught fire, and Beatty fearing he would be burned let go his hold. The lamp dropped to the porch, and alighted near a can filled with half a gallon of gasoline. In an instant the can was enveloped in flame and Bernard seeing the danger of an explosion thrust his hand through the fire. He caught up the can and threw it down, but upon reaching the ground it exploded. Flames leaped almost to the height of the house, but Beatty did not lose his presence of mind. He took the can away from the porch, and prevented danger in that direction and then joined Bernard in extinguishing the flames. When it was all over, the casualties had been summed up, it was found that Beatty was badly burned about one hand, Bernard had a few blisters, and their clothes were burned full of holes. The loss amounted to no more than $10.

Pull off with starch and glass serene. The linen collar starts the morn; Pull off at noontime it is seen All wilted, wrinkled and forlorn.

That's what you must expect of such a collar; it's the linen of it. The stand-up collars won't stand up, and the turn-down collars will wilt down. The easy, cheap, and pleasant way out of this is to wear "CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS. These goods are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with "CELLULOID," thus making them strong and durable, and waterproof, not affected by heat or moisture. There are no other waterproof goods made this way, consequently none that can wear so well. When soiled simply wipe them off with a wet cloth. Every piece of the genuine is stamped like this:

Insist upon goods so marked if you expect full satisfaction, and if your dealer does not keep them, send direct to us enclosing amount and we will mail sample. State size, and whether a stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair.
